

Grandma (Live at The Grist Mill)

RVIVR

 trees drop their leaves they fall by so fast/you don't even notice the weather/looked up and you'd passed and i'd thought that you'd live forever/but you're gone forever/there were new stories just last time i saw her from the life of my mama's mother/we'll have to dream up the ones that we missed because nothing about life is forever/i'll love you forever/
 forever spreads and blocks the way/the future folds into today/fighting the wish to make you stay/
 you have to go and that's ok
