I Couldn't Want You Anyway

Jack Garratt

Bad times are coming, coming
Good friends are gone
And my eyes keep hoping, hoping
That they'll meet yours
My faults were full and plenty
Yours tore me up
So it's no wonder I'm thinking really
You're better off
You're better off

I didn't want you anyway
Don't need reminding I'm your worst mistake
No, I couldn't want you anyway
Not anymore
Not anymore

Don't keep the fire burning
When the coals are dead and gone
Wait until the warmth starts skipping
And the flames are gone
And the flames are gone

I didn't want you anyway
Don't need reminding I'm your worst mistake
No, I couldn't want you anyway
Not anymore
Not anymore

I'll keep my hope in darkness
Let my mind digress
I know your broken heart has laid my love to rest

But I didn't want you anyway
No, I couldn't want you anyway
I couldn't want you anyway
Not anymore
Not anymore
