You Thought

The Go-Go's

I can't seem to stop the music
All those familiar sounds
My thoughts cut in on partners
Dancin' in their empty armsTangled up in the lives of others
That don't make any sense
Lost looks in the eyes of lovers
Their sins are innocentDon't you stop to wonder
What's goin' wrong
When everything you've ever loved
Has come and goneYou thought and never told me
You thought but that won't hold me
So much was left unspoken
Held in a heart now brokenSituations all invented
A million in your head
How come you keep repeating
Each word you never saidDon't you stop to wonder
What's goin' wrong
When everything you've ever loved
Has come and goneYou thought and never told me
You thought but that won't hold me
So much was left unspoken
Held in a heart now brokenYou thought and never questioned
You thought and kept me guessing
Too much was left unspoken
You thought a bit too late this timeTangled up in the lives of others
That don't make any sense
Lost looks in the eyes of lovers
And their sins are innocentDon't you stop to wonder
What's goin' wrong
When everything you've ever loved
Has come and goneYou thought and never told me
You thought but that won't hold me
So much was left unspoken
Held in a heart now brokenYou thought and never questioned
You thought and kept me guessing
Too much was left unspoken
You thought a bit too late this timeYou thought
You thought

You thought
