

Dino vs Dino

Far From Alaska

"You're so nice", he said to them a while ago
Back in the time when they were good to go
"Weird nights", rephrasing what he said before
Twisting words, summoning everyone "You knew I couldn't hold my words
Even though I wanted to
And I knew what I supposed to do
But chose to blame it all on you "She says, "I gotta tell you my story, man
The right story, man"
(Because yours is a lie)
Wait, shut, I gotta tell you my story, man
The whole story, man Have you lost your mind?
We know you were a part of it
I should have known that you would screw it all again
I'll tell you what's so funny
I thought that I could trust in you
'Cause when you did the same I was taken for a fool
Well done, you won your bloody prize
I hope you're happy and satisfied (oh!) She says, "I gotta tell you my story, man
The right story, man"
('cause yours is a lie)
Wait, shut, I gotta tell you my story, man
The whole story, man Dada, dada, dada, hey!
ah, dada, dada, dada, ho
