When the Heart Attacks

Gabrielle Papillon

When the Heart Attacks
Tell me a story that nobody knows
A fable of honor when danger unfolds
With a woman who comes to the rescue.

When the heart attacks do you duck and cover?
Do you pull the brakes? Or do you cling to each other?
When the heart attacks, pull me on its back.

Give me a song about human devotion
Words that color the soul with emotion.
Blistering love.

When the heart attacks do you duck and cover?
Do you pull the brakes? Or do you cling to each other?
When the heart attacks, pull me on its back. (Reprise X2)

You leave me alone,
Iâ€™ll still be the same.
Iâ€™ll hold your place, in the constant pace,
In this endless race.

Tell me a story that nobody knows
A fable of honor when danger unfolds
With a woman who comes to the rescue.

If you leave me alone, I will still be the same.
Iâ€™ll hold your place, in the constant face,
In this endless race.

When the heart attacks do you duck and cover?
Do you pull the brakes? Or do you cling to each other?
When the heart attacks, put me on its back.

Leave me alone,
When the heart attacks do you duck and cover?
Do you pull the brakes? Or do you cling to each other?
When the heart attacks, put me on its back.

When the heart attacks.

Lyrics by Gabrielle Papillon from the album Keep the Fire.

Lyrics Submitted by Paul

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/