Genghis Khan

Running Wild

He was just a gentile man
It was his love to grind
He didn't know the fear
He never had to hideHe loved the glance of metal
And the smell of blood
The flame of badness burned inside him
That was the only thing he had gotGenghis KhanCan't you see it's all a lie
The time had it made
He was a man like you and me
His era was his fateHe freed his conquered land
From the ban of death
Freedom to the mongolenation
By fanning their wrathGenghis Khan
