

Fade Away

Thorne Empire

They say that time heals all wounds
But I know that it's just not true
They say that life is not a game
But I am losing yet again

Happiness is a dream that I forgot
It's the hope that slip away
It's a light that I have inside
But the darkness covers it away

They say that in time I will forget
But I think that pain is all we ever get
I can try to push the memories away
But the pain just finds a way to stay

If the time supposed to heal all wounds
Why don't my scars just fade away
If I am supposed to smile every day
Why do I keep praying for the night to come again

If the time keeps passing by
And I do not see the hope inside
Will you really make me stay
Sometimes there is nothing left to say
It's just time to fade away
It's time to fade away
