Black Metal

Helena Deland

I got nothing but my one track mind baby
Isn't anybody gonna save me from this storm
I'm waiting in the corner
Wondering why things do not change as they get old
Do you need me
I will go where it's far
I was waiting for you where you are

Oh man, does it matter if I love you sometimes much more than I say
Does it matter if I do so with my makeshift loneliness meters away
Oh so patiently I see it standing by the door
Probably take a step leading outside if I weren't so needy asking for More love, more

I will take what I can get
And refute me if you can (?)
I try as hard as I can to forget

Night, night
It's cold too far it seems
It's cold too far it seems to me
No, wait for me
This is as far as I can go
And with my arms around myself
I'm taking, I'm taking, I'm taking it slow
With my arms around myself
I'm taking, I'm taking, I'm taking it slow
With my arms around myself
I'm taking, I'm taking, I'm taking it slow
With my arms around myself
I'm taking, I'm taking, I'm taking it slow

Lyrics Submitted by greenstickitin

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/