Thunder Underground

Ozzy Osbourne

Your thoughts are compromising
Self-centered patronizing
Your image supersedes your soul
You find me mystifying
Subhuman, so annoying
You can't have me under control
You think you live forever
You don't find that profound
You won't think you're so clever
When you hear thunder underground
All right now
Your morbid fear of losing
Destroys the lives you're using
You only have one point of views
The stigma of delusion
Confirms your self illusion
And after all this could be you
You think you live forever
You don't find that profound
You won't think you're so clever
When you hear thunder underground
Here we go now
Could it be that I have found my mind or have I gone insane?
Roller coaster of the madness and there's only me to blame
The ever faithful hand of doom will take the pain away
I'll never know the answer to it all 'til my dying day
Your bullshit culture licking
Can't stop the deathwatch ticking
You're only mortal after all
Your appetite for power
Subvert your every hour
But every time the mighty fall
You think you live forever
You don't find that profound
You won't think you're so clever
When you hear thunder underground
Here we go now
