

Treasure

Hope Sandoval & The Warm Inventions

They got the right side out in this place now
And you're just about to vanish
The secret sleeps 'til the hunter loves you different
Because tonight you'll still be treasure That longing to keep you seeing through Evening hands that took you
The silence that stole away everything
And all those untold plans That's not the way it goes
When you walk yourself home A gentle linger in the dawn light
Should never be a departure They got the right side in this place now
And you're just about to vanish
The secret sleeps 'til the hunter loves you different
Because tonight, you'll still be treasure
That's not the way it goes
When you walk you walk yourself home
A gentle linger in the dawn light
Should never be a departure
