

When Morning Comes

Dishwalla

Feel the burn
Feel the demons come to mix
Fill the street with madness Don't lay your hands
And lesions over me
Fall instead where midnight dies
And morning comes
Feel it here, the silence There's so much life here
And so much pain
We forget there's so much life
As morning comes
And it's real, the silence See the sun forever falling
Let the setback slip through the cracks
Keep us safe from ever crawling
Let me know a life so sweet There's so much life here
And so much pain
We forget there's so much life
As morning comes
And it's real, the silence Say you wanted love
And you want it to feel so real, forever
Well, remember why you have come
And all the shit that's caving in is gone forever

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>