

Where's the Line?

General Public

Always tried to keep in touch, but somehow the ringing never stopped

I tried to break that lock

With almost death-defying leaps and bounds

But never found too many friends on stony ground

A friend's a friend but a pound's a pound and

Things can get awful heavy Say, where's the line between lust and love?

Where's the line?

Said where's the line? Not really hard just acting tough, that's how it seems to be

Wish I was sterner stuff, wish I was anyone but me

Huh, tone it down, your friends get laid on stony ground

A friend's a friend but a pound's a pound and

Things keep on pounding-pounding Where's the line between lust and love eh, eh, eh, eh, eh?

Where's the line between black and white, what on Earth are you thinking of?

Where's the line between lust and love?

Isn't it time for some truths and rights, what on Earth are you? Does your mind ever stop, does your mind ever stop?

No mine never stops, stop, stop So where's the line between lust and love?

Where's the line between lust and love?

Where's the line, where's the line?

Where's the line, where's-where's the line?

Say where's the line, where's the line?

Where's the line, where's the line?

Say where's the line, where's the line?

Where's the line, where's the line?

Where's the line, where's the line?

Where's the line, where's the line? Not really hard just acting tough

Say "wish I was sterner stuff"

Look I always tried to keep in touch, touch, touch

But somehow the ringing never stopped

I say where's the line, where's the line?

Where's the line between lust and love, eh?

Where's the line between lust and love?

Where's the line between lust and love?

Where's the line between lust and love? Oh, where's the line

Where's the line, love, love, love, show me, where's the line?

Where's the line?

Where's the line, love, love, love, show me If you're hiding it, just cut it out, where's the line, show me

We could walk that tightrope-walk that tightrope one more time

Where's the line?

Where's the line, Where's the line?
Show me, where's the line
Said where's the line, show me, show me Where's the line?
Where's the line between lust and love, brrrr-bop-skipp-m
Say where's the line?
Me say where's the line?
