Blinders

Sandpit

Friends, seem to see you
Friends, seem to feel you
Does anybody else know? Know
Know, know, know
Know, know
Know, know, know
I'm bailing you out of this life
Take another glance, then close your eyes
Have you got more to say?
You painting outside the lines
Come another day will you get it right?
Well, there's something I should say
Leave it all, decide to walk away
Won't you leave it all, decide to walk away?
In time you'll find, you're own your own
And I can feel your blinders in the way
So much closer than you know, now
Know, know, know
Can you feel me?
I can see your blinders in the way
Time to open up and let go
Filling shoes this time
Turn another page, it's just a sign
That you're needed in my life
Drawing inside the pain
Could take another day to wash away
There's still time to fly
Leave it all, decide to walk away
Won't you leave it all, decide to walk away?
In time you'll find, you're not alone
I can see your blinders in the way
So much closer than before
So much closer than before you know, now
Can you feel me?
I can see your blinders in the way
Time to open up and let
Time to open up and let go it, now
Caught up outside the light
When you gonna want and realign

I can see you
I can see your blinders in the way
So much closer than you know
So much closer than you know
Know, know, know
Can you feel me?
I can see your blinders in the way
Its time to open up and let go
Friend, I can see you
Friend, I can still feel you
Do you feel alone today?
Oh, my friend
Do you need me?
Friend do you fear me?
We need to be the same
Leave it all, decide to walk away
Won't you leave it all, decide to walk away?
In time you'll find, you're not alone
I can see your blinders in the way
So much closer than you know
So much closer than you know, now
Can you feel me?
I can see your blinders in the way
Time to open up and let
Time to open up and let it go, now
Caught up outside the light
When you gonna want and realign
