

Dripping Down

East India Youth

you may be moving at glacial paces but you're not melting wrapping your arms around all of the concrete you love these buildings nowyou have been left just a little shipwrecked but you keep on floating down to the docklands you're all out of options you'll keep on hurting nowfind new love find new love
dripping down your soul
dripping down your soulyou need perspective it feels more effective than what you're given everyone tells you you're about to get better your keep on giving up
