I'm Where I Should Be

Paul Weller

That sign upon your shop front
Is it for sale or rent?
I need a sign just like that
I'm willing to pay cashNo reason why
Just to fill the time
I know exactly why
I'm where I should beI really don't get anxious
I leave it up to fate
Our lives are so at random
It really don't make senseAnd any holes found empty
We'll fill with summer lawnReach for the sky
I only want what's mine
I know exactly why
I'm where I should beNot trapped by the burden of parody
Shooting cold stares that could freeze ice cream
Thieves in the garden have turned to stone
Nothing is left now for babylonNo reason why
Just to fill the time
I know exactly why
I'm where I should beReach for the sky
I only want what's mine
I know exactly why
I'm where I should be

Songwriters
WELLER, PAUL JOHN / KYBERT, JAN NICHOLASPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/