Cheap Shot Youth Anthem

Kid Dynamite

i remember ten years ago, hard to stay out of trouble when there's no place to go. killing out of line. we threw all caution to the wind. it was hard enough just to be a kid, let alone deal with the problems i was given. i didn't care what youth had to offer. it seemed it was "in". call us up and play a show, say "it's over 21" and we'll say, "hell no!" cause it's all ages! i see it all around me everyday. kids are bored and surrounded by negativity. killing time out line cause they're kept away. influences come from every side and i don't want to be a part of troubling your lives. so, if they don't let you in, then we're not gonna play. just because you're not 21, that's not supposed to mean you can't have any fun. so, come out and raise your fists high, stage dive, and forget about what they say. dance the night away.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/