Jumping Ships

Banter

I spent today thinking about all the things
We left unsaid
The way you walked out of my apartment
And how you stole my favourite candles

I walked home in the dark
With nothing but my phone light
Some shampoo and a broken heart
And now I sleep alone

Yeah I spent today thinking

I really want you to stay,
Because I spent today thinking about the summer
And the way you laid with me on the cold hard ground but you
Made it feel so soft

But these days all I do is sit on my bed
And try to convince myself that what we had
Was more than puppy love but I guess thatâ€™s not enough

Chorus
So Iâ€™ll spend tomorrow thinking about how Iâ€™m gonna get better
How Iâ€™ll get through this weather without you
And if thatâ€™s not enough to help me through the winter
I guess Iâ€™ll give up and start again

But maybe I was the problem because you left me just after Christmas at a time when everyone was Happy but you and me we couldnâ€™t catch a break

And Iâ€™ll miss the days we sat on your roof
So solid that we couldnâ€™t move
Ill move on without you.

So Iâ€™ll spend tomorrow thinking about how Iâ€™m gonna get better
How Iâ€™ll get through this weather without you
And if thatâ€™s not enough to help me through the winter
I guess Iâ€™ll give up and start again

I spent today thinking â€˜bout all the things
Iâ€™ll move on.

So Iâ€™ll spend tomorrow thinking about how Iâ€™m gonna get better
How Iâ€™ll get through this weather without you
And if thatâ€™s not enough to help me through the winter
I guess Iâ€™ll give up and start again x 2
