

Enough Said

Sepultura

The way you live is not alright

It's time to fight

It's time for you to make the changes in your life. don't quit, stand up and fight. can't wait, the time is now. i can't understand, why are you willing to take that fall? i will not stand by and watch you come apart. i owe it to you, you owe it to me, and through it all, we stood as one. until the end, we'll stand as one. enough said, quit holding back; you see what's wrong. it's been this way for too long. in my life, i see it's time to make a change. let's start tonight.
