

Save Me

Caleb Johnson

Bless the day that you curse me baby
You're the heaven I never knew
My body trembles under you
Bless the day that you curse me baby
You're the heaven I never knew
My body trembles under you Pull me down into your ocean
So deep I can barely breathe
I swear you're the gospel I believe, I believe
You got me begging on my knees Save me
Save half of my soul
Take me
Take the end of my rope
Hold on
I am not ready to go
It's too late, in a one-way, I'm crying
Won't you come set me free?
Save me! Tangled up in a mean, mean sober
Staring right at a loaded gun
Dark angel fly me to the midnight sun Hold me down and tame this misery
Sing the verse from a hollow man
Scars on my heart, blood on my hands, in my hands, ya
You got me begging on my knees Save me
Save half of my soul
Take me
Take the end of my rope
Hold on
I am not ready to go
It's too late, in a one-way, I'm crying
Won't you come set me free?
Save me! (You're a house on fire and I'm running in Roll the crooked dice again and again and again
A poison dagger and it twists and it turns
There's a house on fire, I'm gonna watch it burn
Watch it burn) Save me
Save half of my soul
Take me
Take the end of my rope
Hold on
I am not ready to go

It's too late, in a one-way, I'm crying
Won't you come set me free?
Save me! Save me
