

Find Your Way

Blood On the Dance Floor

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

[Verse 1].. about the love and the rage
i believe in one race and different colors and different shades but all i see is the color grey we all bleed and breathe the same fucking way so why can't you keep your mouth shut if you have nothing nice to say i dont get what the big deal is with everyone and there hate i wish it was a closed fist for the wrong thing to say im only here for today i heard the world need to be saved.. i got my crew i got the truth all i need is my cape(you dont need a cape..... to save the day
make your own faith
peace and love is the only wayused to run this town but now we hardly own it who would have known that our president would be homophobic
Why is it we vote towards the obvious lie?
Sending our people to another fucking country to dieWe trap innocent people in cages to tame them
It's just 'cause we're jealous, frustrated or hate them You're really gonna diss 'cause of who I sleep with?
I'm grown up now I'm not taking your shitI'll say fuck that, I'll be a gay man I'll take my stand
I'll rip bitches throats out with my bare hands
No mercy for the ones who refuse our demandsDestroying our home
The answer changed from no to a maybe
But I won't let this world go So I'm taking my chance to save itYou don't need a cape (You make discoveries, not mistakes)
to save the day

Make your own faith
(Remember this before you will break)Find. Your. Way
Find. Your. Way
Find. Your. Way
Find. Your. WayFind. Your. Way Unmasking the tearsYou don't need a cape (You make discoveries, not mistakes)
to save the day
Make your own faith
(Remember this before you will break)You don't need a cape (You make discoveries, not mistakes)
to save the day
Make your own faith
(Remember this before you will break)
