

Ain't No Trucks in Texas

Ronnie Dunn

There ain't no bar on the edge of town
Ain't no guitar with a lonely sound
There ain't no band playing that song
About some girl that's been gone too long
There ain't no trucks in Texas
Ain't no football in the south
Ain't no bourbon in Kentucky, I ain't drinkin' me some now
Ain't no stars in California, Memphis never had the blues
Oh, there ain't no trucks in Texas, and I ain't missing you
There ain't no phone sitting by my drink
I don't hope it's you every time it rings
I don't care where you are
I don't wish you'd turn around that car
I don't call your friends, I don't want to know
I don't regret letting you go
And there ain't no trucks in Texas
Ain't no football in the south
Ain't no bourbon in Kentucky, and I ain't drinkin' me some now
Ain't no stars in California, Memphis never had the blues
Oh, there ain't no trucks in Texas, and I ain't missing you
They don't get high in Colorado or party down in New Orleans
Ain't no losers out in Vegas
Ain't no Jack in Tennessee
I ain't had me one too many, and if you believe that's true
Oh, there ain't no trucks in Texas, and I ain't missing you
I ain't missing you

Songwriters

NEIL THRASHER, TONY MARTIN, WENDELL LEE MOBLEY Published by

Lyrics © Peermusic Publishing, Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc., OLE MM
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>