Leftover Crack

Where have all the blue skies gone
And to the east a toxic dawn
Poison is the wind that blows
Who inhales it no one knowsWhy does so much feel like less
Resigned into death's warm caressSickly sweet is melted skin
Greed becomes our greatest sin
Putrefacation, rot, decay
We'll shoot your kids at school todayWhy does so much feel like less
Resigned into death's warm caress
