One Hit Wonder

Nick Piunti

Burned out, before it began,
if it was destined to be then we stuck to the plan.
Over our heads it was out of our hands it was gone.

We were a one hit wonder, couldnâ€™t follow it up.
So addictive no way we could stop.
Tying our dream to a needle drop it was gone.

From the dizziest heights we looked out below.
Setting our sights there was nowhere to go.
Holding so tight just to lose all control it was gone.

We were a one hit wonder, couldnâ€™t follow it up.
So addictive no way we could stop.
Tying our dream to a needle drop it was gone.

Connected, we were one in the same.
Drawn to the fire we were moths to the flame.
Everyone fails when they slave to the game, weâ€™re gone.

We were a one hit wonder, couldnâ€™t follow it up.
So addictive no way we could stop.
Tying our dream to a needle drop we were goneâ€¦
