Brand New Thing

Adema

The sun shined on our face
Our imaginations took us to any place
At the end of that altered road
Where we'd all stopped runnin'
We were living without no plans
There was never a doubt that someday
One of us might shake hands with the devil
The other one might break free
What if we were young again, yeah
When all of the was just pretending
Everybody wants to belong, whoa
To a brand new thing
That doesn't mean that much to me
Everybody's singing along
To the song the others sing, yeah
'Cause it's a brand new thing
The summer went by so fast
Caught up in something that we thought would last
Yet the hope grows cold
But the fire's still burning
Thinking about that time of giving up everything
I thought was mine, I know
Something tells me that the end is near
What if we could start again, yeah
When all of this was just beginning
Everybody wants to belong, whoa
To a brand new thing
That doesn't mean that much to me
Everybody's singing along
To the song the others sing, yeah
'Cause it's a brand new thing
We don't know, we will follow
They just know, they will follow
They just know, they will follow
Everybody wants to belong, whoa
(Everybody wants to move one)
To a brand new thing
That doesn't mean that much to me
Everybody's singing along

(Everybody's singing along)
To the song the others sing, yeah
'Cause it's a brand new thing
Everybody wants to belong, whoa
(Everybody wants to belong)
Everybody's singing along
(Everybody wants to belong)
Everybody wants to belong, whoa
(Everybody wants to belong)
Everybody wants to belong
