

Flower Child

Joss Stone

I'm your flower child
Born [in] '87
I've been growing wild
Home grown in heaven
I found my summer and
You wash away the pain
I'm your flower child
I'll keep you guessing Hold me, keep me breathing
We were meant to be as one again
It's clear that we are rising
I'll be the moon to your sun
I'll be your flower child You're my soul mate
Within a vision
You dream up a new world
In a lotus position Nothing else praises you
Because we rock on through
You're my soul mate
Perfect collision Hold me, keep me breathing
We were meant to be as one
It's clear that we are rising
I'll be the moon to your sun
I'll be your flower child, yeah
I'll be your flower child Young and free living for love alone
It's time to lead
The world will see us grow, all right now
Colors all in beauty we can't control
Mother nature's music makes us whole
Hold me, keep me breathing
We were meant to be as one
It's clear that we are rising
I'll be the moon to your sun
I'll be your flower child
I'll be your flower child Sweet sensation
Your cool vibration
I'll be your flower child
