Break Through The Silence (vs Matisse & Sadko)

Martin Garrix

I'm on the edge got to get away
I've seen it all before
I'm going down like a renegade
And I'm still begging from moreThis is the last time I tell you to open your eyes
The city is sleepin, the monsters outside
The fire is burnin', there's no way to hide
And I won't say it anymoreBreak through the silence
I can feel the energy rising
Turn up the sirens
We were never meant to be quietBreak through the silence
I can feel the energy rising
Turn up the sirens
We were never meant to be quietThere are lots [?] to lead away
To what we searching for
I'm million miles from yesterday
And it's right here on the floorThis is the last time I tell you to open your eyes
The city is sleepin, the monsters outside
The fire is burnin' there's no way to hide
And I won't say it anymoreBreak through the silence
I can feel the energy rising
Turn up the sirens
We were never meant to be quietBreak through the silence
I can feel the energy rising
Turn up the sirens
We were never meant to be quiet
