Sunshine After Rain

Thomas, Natasha

She never really loved you
It was right from the start
The only thing she gave you
Was a broken heart
And the emptiness you feel insideSo come on take my hand
You know the time has come
For you to face the truth
And I will pull you through
Wash away all your tears
You'll start again after the rainAfter the rain all the birds wanna fly
And when the wind breezes a sigh
And after the rain when you touch one again
Losing your pain, sunshine after rain
Sunshine after rainGotta keep your head up
Gotta stay and be strong
And by now you should know
That she never loved you
Your love never grew, never grewAfter the rain all the birds wanna fly
And when the wind breezes a sigh
And after the rain when you touch one again
Losing your pain, sunshine after rainAfter the rain it is peaceful and warm
Sunshine comes after the storm
And after the rain when you touch one again
Losing your pain, sunshine after rainI think you don't know just what magic A raindrop contains, ooh, a raindrop contains
But I know that everything is Wonderful after rain, ooh, after the rainAfter the rain all the birds wanna fly
And when the wind breezes a sigh
And after the rain when you touch one again
Losing your pain, sunshine after rainAfter the rain it is peaceful and warm
Sunshine comes after the storm
And after the rain when you touch one again
Losing your pain, sunshine after rainGotta keep your head up
Gotta stay and be strong
And I will pull you through
Wash away all your tears
You'll start again after the rain
