Falling Leaves

Robert Bruce

Standing in the middle of a forest
Basking in the glorious autumn
Watching the leaves as they change
From green, from green to orange, yellow and brown
I'm falling down
I'm falling down
My emotions are deceiving me

Blinding my eyes from my nature
Robbing my quiet solitude
Of tranquility of tranquility
I'm falling down
I'm falling down
Oh, let these falling leaves cover me
Let me sink into the ground never be found
