

Thank You (i Won't Complain)

Fred Hammond

There's a praise that lives deep in my heart
And it says, 'Oh, Lord, I love You'
I am blessed when I think of Your goodness to me
It comforts me daily

But there are times in my life
When things don't work out right
And my burdens are heavy
And there's no joy inside

Put my eyes back on You
For You've always come through
And with this simple refrain
I will bless you, bless you, come

Lord You've been good to me
Made the way I could not see
Your love came in and lifted me
And I, I won't complain

Through the years
You've been there to dry my tears
There is not a closer friend than You

Oh, Lord, You have been so good to me
More than this world could ever be
I really wanna thank You, yeah
Lord, I won't complain

Lift my hands, give You praise
In the midst of each storm 'cause You are worthy
When life's sorrows and heartaches rush in
I will remember, You are still worthy

Let the words of my mouth leave no room for doubt
Because down through the years You've been faithful
And when I think it all through, oh Lord, it's been You
Who's been there all the time and I'm grateful, grateful

Lord You've been good to me

You made the way I could not see
Your love came in and lifted me
And I, I won't complain

Through the years
You've been there to dry my tears
There is not a closer friend than You

Lord, I know that You know what's best for me
Even when my weary eyes can't see
I really wanna thank You
Lord, I won't complain

Let the words of my mouth leave no room for doubt
Because down through the years You've been faithful
When I think it all through, oh Lord, it's been You
Who was there all the time and I'm grateful

Through it all, You've been there for me
Through every trial, every heartache, You've been there
Every tear that I've cried, Lord, You've been there
I'll lift my hands and I'll give You the praise through it all

Down through the years, every step that I'd to take
You've been there every time I've fallen
And You've been there to hold me tight though the grades of time
I'll lift my hands and I'll give You the praise, You've been good

You've been good, when I think of all You've done
It makes me wanna shout for joy and give You glory
There is no one like You, You've been so good, yeah
I'll lift my hands and I'll give You the praise and say

Thank You, thank You
I won't complain, all I'm gonna say is
Thank You, thank You
I'll lift my hands and I'll give You the praise through it all

Through it all, You've been there everyday of mine
You've been so good and I lift my hands to get You praise
Thank You, I gotta say it
Thank You, thank You

Thank You, thank You
I won't complain, all I'm gonna say is
Thank You, thank You

Thank You, thank You

Thank You, thank You
I won't complain, all I'm gonna say is
Thank You, thank You
Thank You, thank You

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by MCCORD, KEVIN DUANE / SIMMONS, EARL / HALL, MARCEL THEO / WILLIAMS, MARLON

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group, Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd., EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>