X-ray Eyes

Guster

To clear the conscience of who I am
I break the silence, keeps it all in
I've given you everything I wish you knew
I did it for me, I didn't do it for youI looked her way
With X-Ray eyes
And she looked
Like she was not even therePreserving the things that I have kept from you Didn't give them away, you had asked me to
You're pointing at me and how do I reply
I smash your fingers and drag you awayI looked away
With X-Ray eyes
And she looked
Like she was not even thereI cannot deny that I had planned this
I only gave till I was done
Fallen on me this happy ending
I know I was awake and she was numbBut when she started to leave
Finally started to leave
Then she looked
Like she was not even there
