

Counterweight

Heaven Shall Burn

Unrelenting, their endeavor to rule lives

Teaching you an artificial truth, that you will grieve no more,
that you will die no more

Narrow minded mercenaries, slave traders, soul collectors
Send a promise of destruction to those who will not kneel

Derision of the upright ones; as fear devours all doubts
But there are so many things I hold beyond their reach
The doom you promised me may come, I'm not afraid

You cannot save me

I am the counterweight

No need to save me; for I'm the counterweight
And I will grieve no more, I will die no more
