Drop

Spectorbullets

Last time I saw you, I kept the sun off my face
And felt the caution in the wind

Now all?s as I desired and I?m perfectly slain
An amalgation of love and pain

So far away from what was you and I, yet I know I see you in each frosty night
So one solitary kiss - if not now then when?

Cause the way I drop makes me see I?m not so strong
It was with you and for you I was holding on
And in daylight comes the twilight
Now I?m watching fading silhouettes of memories gone

Today my mind felt like billowing smoke
All streaked silver and white
Trying to hold you, wanting to feel you but couldn
