So Into You

The Stereo

everyone's so into you
but that's not what you're into you're so confused you've lost your mind you feel washed up you feel so left behind everyone's so into you
but that's not what you're into
can anybody comprehend the risks involved and the chance you take to pretend? does anybody truly see?
does everybody know but me? no longer will i sleep alone wasting my life by the phone no longer will i cry another tear for you
everyone's so into you
but that's not what you're into you need not have to carry on you can't let go or run home anymore
everyone's so into you
but that's not what you're into it's plain to see what's eating me it's hard to part but you make it so easy i'm through yeah that's right i'm through missing you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/