Purity of Sadness

Illdisposed

I sense the darkness
To me it's real
And so the purity of sadness
For me a better dealWhen you think of the devil
You better think of me
Your own best companion
The only way to beThe gods pause
To contemplate your fateTake a look at the horizon
Tell me what you see
The sun may never rise
Should have got a tanA rush in your commitments
A tale to leave untold
My strength will only witness
Heartstrings turning coldFading light through your windows
And the passage far beyond
Be truly as your mind goes
Be truly when you're gone
