

The Great Unknown

Matty Mullins

I get so stuck inside my comfort zone
I point the finger but the blame is my own
I've heard the stories of the great unknown
I think it's time for me to go
Lord take me somewhere, my heart has to grow I wanna break out, take me away from what I know
Show me a life that relies on You alone
I wanna live loud and speak with a love that overflows
I wanna walk with the faith and strength that is not my own
Into the great unknown
I know You're calling me to greater things
Beyond the limits of my insecurities
Out in the waters that are far to deep
That's when Your love starts changing me
Lord take me deeper than I've ever known I wanna break out, take me away from what I know
Show me a life that relies on You alone
I wanna live loud and speak with a love that overflows
I wanna walk with the faith and strength that is not my own
Into the great unknown Lord take me somewhere, my heart has to grow
You lead, I'll follow into the unknown
I wanna break out, take me away from what I know
Show me a life that relies on You alone
I wanna live loud and speak with a love that overflows
I wanna walk with the faith and strength that is not my own
Into the great unknown
Into the great unknown
