Every Moment

The Normals

Here we can't stop moving, can't let that fear creep in That all of our ships are sinking and no one here can swim
Truth we turned that word away, the truth that welcomes us to stay
Where every moment of every day is summer
And autumn and winter and springLovers and loners and vagrants and kings were finally home
We've got worlds upon our shoulders, atlas to our sin
From trying to be too good for a broken dying man
Love so perfect, love so right, let us fall in love tonight
Where every moment of every day is summer
And autumn and winter and springLovers and loners and vagrants and kings were finally home
Let us run free, let us breathe wild, let us not let your beauty pass us by
We can't wait to move on, drop these ragged bones and spring
Lovers and loners and vagrants and kings were finally home

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/