Two Different Things

Caitlin Cary

I got all the time I could work right here in my head
I can come and go as I please, you always understand
I guess I should be happy, don't even know how all this began
I wish we cared enough to fight about it, every now and thenWhat I want and what I have are two different things
What you were is not what you've become
We've lost so much in-between
What I wanted and what I had are two different thingsHoney, turn that record off and put your car keys on the table
You know, I can't tell you everything but I'll say what I'm able Always tried to please you and I'll try it once again
The more I change the things I do, the less you let me inWhat you want and what I am are two different things
What I was is not what I've become
We've lost so much in-between
What you wanted and what I am are two different thingsWell, there it is, it's on the table, we said all there is to say
You keep the name and the number, you let me go, I'll let you stay'Cause what we wanted and what we had are two different things
What we were is not what we've become
We've lost so much in-between
What we wanted and what we had are two different things
What we wanted and what we had are two different things
