Heart Speaks First

Travis Garland

Standing on the other side of the road
With a tear in your eyes
Wishing that I didn't act the way I do
Took it too far this time
I was filled with emotion
Instead of giving you space,I threw it in your face
And now, you just wanted me closer
But I pushed you away
I made you scream,I made you cry
I shouldn't have taken the stars from your sky
We're still a team,as much as it hurts
Remember that they're only words
My heart speaks first
So baby whenever it hurts
Remember that they're only words
My heart speaks first
Its hard for me to function when I know your sad
Like a robot in rain
And even though the hurt you feel is all my bad
It still drives me insane(its making me crazy)
And you know that I love you
That I need you to be there, like a table needs chairs
My love, after all that we've been through
Please don't let it all slip away
I made you scream,I made you cry
I shouldn't have taken the stars from your sky
We're still a team,as much as it hurts
Remember that they're only words
My heart speaks first
So baby whenever it hurts
Remember that they're only words
My heart speaks first
And its teling me to,and its telling me to love you(love you)
And its teling me to,and its telling me to love you(love you)
I made you scream,I made you cry
I shouldn't have taken the stars from your sky
We're still a team,as much as it hurts
Remember that they're only words
My heart speaks first

So baby whenever it hurts
Remember that they're only words,remember that they're only words
My heart speaks first
