

Lawless

Social Distortion

A question of morals, black market love
Street survivors for another cause
Family traditions of another kind
Challenging politics with payoffs twice a month
Too much is not enough and enough is just too much
Not afraid of one man, not afraid of ten
Like a pirate in the city, he's a lover man too
Whatever it is that he wants from you
Just remember, he always gets what he wants
With a gun in one hand, a drink in the other
Deep inside he knows his days are numbered
In his world he led an important life
