Cry On My Shoulder

Overflow

You say you're falling apart, reached the end of the line
Just looking for your place in an ordinary life
No one calls you friend and no one even knows your name
You just want to feel loved instead of all the painYou no longer have to say
No one's listening anywayCome here and cry on my shoulder
I'll hold you till it's over, I'll rescue you tonight
Let my arms be your shelter, you're hiding place forever
I'll love you more than lifeYou're wearing a frown, given up on hope
My heart is reaching out, more than you will ever know
Is your burden too much? Is it more than you can bare?
I'll help carry the load if you're willing to shareYou no longer have to say
No one's listening anywayCome here and cry on my shoulder
I'll hold you till it's over, I'll rescue you tonight
Let my arms be your shelter, you're hiding place forever
I'll love you more than lifeYou have had some hard times and thorns placed in your side
I know about what you've been going though
The tears of pain are falling down, it hurts so bad, you're crying out
The problems won't last forever, let me put you back togetherCome here and cry on my shoulder
I'll hold you till it's over, I'll rescue you tonight
Let my arms be your shelter, you're hiding place forever
I'll love youCome here and cry on my shoulder
I'll hold you till it's over, I'll rescue you tonight
Let my arms be your shelter, you're hiding place forever
I'll love you more than life, I'll love you more than life
