Goldfinger

I searched for a cause
I climbed the highest mountain
I walked to the top
I stopped and then looked downBut when I stop the search
The answers always come
And when I help someone
I always help myself by helpingYou tell me where your skeleton's hiding
You tell me all and I'll tell you
You think you have a real good fucking answer
A fucking answer I'll give youI look toward the girls
In them I found no truth
I looked outside myself
It seemed I lost the goodBut when I turn my eyes
Out from my own head
That's when I realize
That I see what I'm really sellingYou tell me where your skeleton's hiding
Tell me all and I'll tell you
You think you have a real good fucking answer
A fucking answer I'll give you
Get a fucking answerBut when I stop the search
The answers always come
And when I help someone
I always help myself by helpingYou tell me where your skeleton's hiding
You tell me all and I'll tell you
You think you have a real good fucking answer
A fucking answer I'll give youYou tell me where your skeleton's hiding
Tell me all and I'll tell you
You think you have a real good fucking answer
A fucking answer what I've given you
