Turn Out Right

Deepest Blue

Look at how they run and hide away
Try to reach the sun, you climbed then failed
And all the time you try to be someone
Too proud to say you're sorry
When all the lies you told became undone
Another chance is roaringAnd I can't believe that you still want to fight, me
And I can't see the menace in your eyes
So stop and think before you agonize
Let's bring the sadness you bore, turn out the rightLook at how you turn then slide away
Loyal to no one, blue skies, will fade
And all the time you tried to be someone
Too proud to see you're foolish
When all the lies you told became undone
Another chance is roaringAnd I can't believe that you still want to fight, me
And I can't see the menace in your eyes
So stop and think before you agonize
Let's bring the sadness you bore, turn out the right
