

Out of Tune

Useless ID

Out of tune and out of place again
The same old crowd, the same expression
Never coming back again, rolling out of town
No one knew you came from far away
No one promised you much more than nothing
It's not like anyone here knows your name
It's not like anyone will stay
Out of tune and out of place again
The same old crowd, the same expression
Never coming back again, rolling out of town
Rolling out of town, running out of time
Long drive tonight
What's the point of it?
They hate us here and they all really hate us there
But we don't really seem to care at all
About the politics of lazy kids who say
"Be like us or take the fall"
Out of tune and out of place again
The same old crowd, the same expression
Never coming back again, rolling out of town
Rolling out of town, running out of time
Long drive tonight
So what's the point of it?
