

Nevermind

Lee Rogers

Its getting late now my lady, lets stretch the time for just a little while

Wanna keep the fire going, the nights scent as the sun goes down

Put you're light on baby

You're altogether gorgeous right now, the rose skies as they light up your face

And you're playing with your hair now baby, this drifting heat we could be anyplace

Put you're light on babyAnd what's that playing on my radio

All these voices and songs from so long ago

The perfect night time kicking back groove

Reminds me of the days when.....

Nevermind.....Well the ghosts are drifting past our faces, it's a feel good conversation with a razors edge

The world it never stopped in any of the ages, and it never will no matter what's been said

Put you're light on baby

I've been feeling so good lately, feeling like I could be myself again

And the fires still burning,I just never know where or when

Put your light on babyAnd what's that playing on my radio

All these voices and songs from so long ago

The perfect night time kicking back groove

Reminds me of the days when.....

Nevermind.....No one else matters no one even cares, we got ours babe and they got theirs

Everyones a preacher, always falling down turn up the radio drown out the background

Into the submission out toward the world, never had a dream but have you ever heard

How everyones a stranger, a friend you never seen, trapped in a place your sure you never been

Turn it up, turn it up turn up the radio.....
