

Nothing

Jeremy Camp

It must have been good, it must have been right
Well to see you standin' holdin', well holdin' me tight
Oh with your arms around me, I know that you are there
You're never in the distance, I always know you're near
It must have been good, it must have been right
Well to see you standin' holdin', well holdin' me tight
Oh with your arms around me, I know that you are there
You're never in the distance, I always know you're near
Well nothin' I can do, well nothin' I can say
Can make you love me more, your love remains the same
Will you gave it all for me, will you gladly took my place?
Put it in myself of all, will all my guilt and shame?
Will all my guilt and shame, yeah?
I must have been strong, well I must have stood tight
Well to yield the thoughts around me that battle in my mind
And knowing you surround me, your wings coat my despair
Whatever my condition, the cross it shows you care
Nothin' I can do, well nothin' I can say
Can make you love me more, your love remains the same
Will you gave it all for me, will you gladly took my place?
Put it in myself of all, will all my guilt and shame?
It must have been good, it must have been right
Well to see you standin' holdin', holdin' me tight
Oh with your arms around me, I know that you are there
You're never in the distance, I always know you're near
Nothin' I can do, well nothin' I can say
Can make you love me more, your love remains the same
Will you gave it all for me, will you gladly took my place?
Put it in myself of all, will all my guilt and shame?
Well nothin' I can do, well nothin' I can say
Can make you love me more, the way your love remains the same
Will you gave it all for me, will you gladly took my place?
Put it in myself of all, will all my guilt and shame?
Oh yeah, will all my guilt and shame?
Oh yeah, will all my guilt and shame?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>