Change The World

Finger Eleven

I just want the best for you girl
But I don't think I really know
What that means
I know you bring the best out of me
And I know you're sick
Of abstract things
But time has been kind
In a weird kind of way
Cause I've been waiting for this feeling to leave
If I can hold onto this feeling this long
Maybe I can get you to hold me

Don't you believe, girl
You change the world
At least you changed the world for me

I won't be sorry if you leave me girl
Cause I'm the world's biggest fan of clichÃ©s
I'll set you free then I'll love like I'm not Hurting in the world's worst ways

But I don't know if I can make it alone
And I don't have much more left to lose
I can't say for sure just where I'll end up
I just want to end up there with you

Don't you believe, girl
You change the world
At least you changed the world for me

When the darkness never ends
And my world's crashing in
And it starts to turn again
Will you believe?

When I won't get over you
And my world splits in two
When I just can't make it through
Will you believe?

Don't you believe, girl
You change the world
At least you changed the world for me
(until the end)

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by TOZER, DAVE / ANDERSON, CHRISTOPHER / DANGERFIELD, DANIEL / IVES, ELLIOT
Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Chrysalis One Music

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/