

The Camel With a Runny Nose

Courtney Campbell

There once was a camel with a runny nose,
So the camel got a tissue and blew his toes,
    A bird flew over and said, "Oh my!"
The camel got a tissue and blew his eye.
"Yuck!" said the spider as it crawled near,
The camel got a tissue and blew his ear.
Ooh said the snake, "That's not too neat."
The camel got a tissue and blew his feet.

Please Mr Camel,
    Blow your nose.
Come on Mr Camel,
    blow your nose.
Don't you know where the tissue goes?
Please Mr Camel,
    Blow your nose.

"Oh!" said the rabbit, starting to wail,
The camel got a tissue and blew his tail.
A lizard on the ground began to beg,
The camel got a tissue and blew his leg.

Please Mr Camel,
    Blow your nose.
Come on Mr Camel,
    blow your nose.
Don't you know where the tissue goes?
Please Mr Camel,
    Blow your nose.

All this time his nose was running,
It drizzled down his lips onto his chin,
It dripped, dripped, dripped down on the sand.
    It started to spread all over the land!

A girl appeared in a bright blue dress,
"Poor Mr Camel, you're really a mess."
    Standing on the tip of her toes,
The girl held a tissue up to his nose.

Please Mr Camel,
Blow your nose.
Come on Mr Camel,
blow your nose.
Don't you know where the tissue goes?
Please Mr Camel,
Blow your nose.

Just like that the camel knew,
Exactly what he was supposed to do.
He took a breath and said, "Here goes!"

Please Mr Camel,
Blow your nose.
Come on Mr Camel,
blow your nose.
Don't you know where the tissue goes?
Please Mr Camel,
Please Mr Camel,
Please Mr Camel won't you blow your nose?

"Does anybody have any vitamin C?"
