Photographs and Gasoline

Framing Hanley

No use taking off your clothes.
We won't be going there tonight.
You were kind enough to say hello.
I figured I could at least say goodbye.
The way I was thinking about telling you that I was in love with her
I'm still in love with her.
Oh look at this web I wove

So take this photograph, and I'll take this empty frame.
I won't be coming back, but you're not the one to blame.
The chemistry between liars like you and me ignites like gasoline.

Wait, wait, wait, let me set the record straight,
I was never really yours in the first place.
Now, oh, look at this web I wove.
I told you, I would break your heart.

So take this photograph, and I'll take this empty frame.
I won't be coming back, but you're not the one to blame.
The chemistry between liars like you and me ignites like gasoline.

Explosions all around me.
There's no place that I'd rather be than home with her beside me.
I'm home â€¦ take me home again.
Is this where you thought I'd be?
How's this for your spotlight?
I thought you said something about me?
Well you better get your facts right.

So take this photograph, and I'll take this empty frame.
I won't be coming back, but you're not the one to blame.
Oh, the chemistry, chemistry between liars like you and me.
Ignites like gasoline (like gasoline).

Jack be nimble, Jack be quick
Jack sent to hell with a candlestick
Oh it will be, oh it will be
A hard time in the old town tonight
Oh it will be, oh it will be
A hard time in the old town tonight

Tonight, tonight we'll burn the city down
