

(only A) Summer Love

Reo Speedwagon

Now there's nothing left to do
But to lay my head down for sleeping
I'm weak with exhaustion and the lover's blues
But I still can't forget those weeks I had with you
But I guess it was only a summer love
Nothing too serious and nothing to last
I feel like your fool to be longing
For that lyin' summer love
Once we both loved just a bit too hard
For deep down we both knew it was dyin'
And we both talked just a little about forever
But we both knew we were doing some lyin'
And I guess it was only a summer love
Nothing too serious and nothing to last
Baby, I feel like your fool to be longing
For that lyin' summer love
Now the snow falls, freezing my hurt for you
But some nights I feel it is still there
I've come back now to the life I've known before you
But it doesn't have the same old meaning
And I guess it was only a summer love
Nothing too serious and nothing to last
Oh baby, I feel like your fool to be longing
For that lyin' summer love
