Aeroplane

Reamonn

I saw your name in a telephone book
As someone unlisted someone unknown
I guess you want to disappear
To another world
Where you're left on your ownAnd I know we could close our eyes
And fool ourselves
With nowhere left to hide
I thought that giving up
Would be easier
But it's harder not to tryCause in your heart is a hurt that's growing
You're like a window to my world
Where no begin is where you areI love you like an aeroplane
That's taking me home again
I'm standing here in line
Cause some love just takes timeI love you like an aeroplane
That's taking me home again
If you're searching for the truth
It's in the feelings I have for you
It's in the feelings I have for youThey say
Some things are forever and
Some things they only last a day
It it's not getting better
If it's difficult
Doesn't mean you turn awayI know you live your life
Like a melody
A song that wants to grow
I thought that giving up
Would be easier
But it's harder letting go
Cause in your heart is a hurt that's growing
You're like a window to my world
Where to begin is where you areI love you like an aeroplane
That's taking me home again
I'm standing here in line
Cause some love just takes timeI love you like an aeroplane
That's taking me home again
If you're searching for the truth
It's in the feelings I have for youI saw your name in a telephone book
As someone unlisted someone unknown

I guess you want to disappear
To another world
Where you're left on your ownAnd I know we could close our eyes
And tell yourself
That's there's not much we can do
But I'm not giving up
I'm not giving up
On these feelings I have for you
Yeah these feelings I have for you
These feelings I have for you
These feelings I have for you
These feelings I have for you
